Summary

Aspiring Computer Science Engineer | B.Tech Student at Amrita
Vishwa Vidyapeetham

I am Vasanthakumar S, currently pursuing my B.Tech in Computer Science and Engineering at Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham. With a strong foundation in programming and problem-solving, I am passionate about exploring the latest advancements in technology and applying them to real-world challenges.

My technical skills include Java, Object-Oriented Programming (OOP), User Interface (UI) Designing, AWS services, and Database Management. I have hands-on experience with cloud technologies through learning cloud foundations and database management, which has deepened my understanding of scalable and efficient software development.

I have a keen interest in creating intuitive and efficient user interfaces, designing robust software solutions, and leveraging cloud computing to build modern applications.

I am eager to collaborate on innovative projects, enhance my technical skills, and contribute to the tech community. My academic journey has equipped me with knowledge in areas such as algorithms, data structures, software development, and cloud computing, and I am always excited to learn more.

Let's connect and explore opportunities in the field of computer science!
